

JULIET HAS A GUN

Wildflower

Verse:

It's early morning, I break the sleep,
Raw on the inside, you're going deep,
So, this is what it feels to be in love so fearlessly,
and there is a storm now, that busts in waves, without a shelter, without a cave, even if I would close my eyes again,
I would still see.

Chorus:

Look with me into the sky
let's discover a way to fly No matter what storm will come they may all go by.
And I will stay by your side,
my eyes remain open wide, all falls into place until we start this new life

Verse:

Fell into pieces, then mend again,
We're flowing rivers, soul's free run,
Wake me up and wrap me into your embrace, dissolve in you.
And there's a vision, ancient face,
I yearned so long to find this place,
Feeling like a cruel warrior,
I still try not to violate.

Chorus

Flow over walls
The border falls
And every storm will strengthen you and me now.
